Doctor Alexander M. Cheney of Jerseyville Accepts Provisions of His Father's Last Testament-Wedded to Miss Theodosia S. Barry, Who Will Receive $160 a Month From Estate.

LONG STANDING LITIGATION OVER

MRS. ALEXANDER M. CHENEY.
Who was Miss Theodosia S. Burry, the daughter of Doctor E. L. H. Burry of Jerseyville.

Doctor Alexander M. Cheney and Miss grandfather, Doctor D'Arey. The will rheodosia S. Barry, both of Jerseyville, named Senator T. S. Chapman of Jerseyville as executor and also as trustee of Theodosia S. Barry, both of Jerseyville, were married yesterday morning at the home of the bride's father, Doctor E. L. tor of the First Presbyterlan Church, of-Doctor and Mrs. Chency departed for Den-ver on a honeymoon trip. They will be at Doctor Cheney is the son of the late the famous Chency will contest case last week by closing the litigation and accepting the terms of the will made by Judge Cheney. In his effort to break his father's Supreme Court of Illinois four times, Aftnamed Senator T. S. Chapman of Jersey ville as executor and also as trustee of the property.

The will alleged that Doctor Cheney, the son, was addicted to the use of alcoholic stimulants and narcotics. Should he abstain from the use of such, he was to receive the sum of $100 each and every month. If he should so abstain for a period of one year, he was to receive the additional bonus of $1,000. This bonus was to be increased by $1,000 annually until the fifth year, when, if the son abstained from the use of the stimulants and drugs, he was to receive not only the bonus of $5,000 in case, but the control of one-half of the Christian County, Illinois, land belonging to the estate. A further abstenance of five years gives Doctor Cheney control of the other half of the land.

Another provision of the will was that Doctor Cheney should marry, and in such an event an additional sum of $100 per month was provided for his wife. Doctor Chapman, the trustee and executor, his acceptance of the provisions of the will, and yesterday fulfilled another provision by taking for his bride Miss Theodosia S. Barry.

Both Doctor Cheney and his mother, two weeks ago, Doctor Cheney accepted the provisions of the will and dropped the prosecution.

Most of the property involved in the will known in St. Louis, Mrs. Cheney, are well known in St. Louis, Mrs. Cheney being prominent in West End social circles.

some lavish individual and labeled with his name.

Many of us, therefore, think that the music public, when it understands the case, will be better pleased to bear each one his chare of the schual expense of the cyncerts, rather than obtain a ticket at the usual price of other entertainments, and know that the balance of the cost is being paid by some other man. May we all help to keep this spirit of self-reliance alire in St. Louis. to handling the 4,000,000 passengers in and out of St. Louis a new high record in all respects, save the item of beggage handled, was made last month by the a subscription to the deficit fund, and the seats in the baicony are raised in about the same proportion and under the same plan; the boxes are raised from $100 to $100.

It is interesting to note that all but six of the bexes are now taken at the advanced price, and that the president, Mrs. Davis, ruarantees that she can place the other els. Certainly the boxholders are coming forward nobly.

At the meeting at the Women's Club last Thursday, when I offered a resolution that the orchestra be abandoned, I did so under the belief that it would be impossible to have the situation understoodby the general public in time to save the society, and if, in the end, the season was to fail, I felt that common justice to Mr. Ernst and the musicians demanded that we should face the situation, make our decision, and release them to accept employment elsewhere. The success of both the conductor and the orchestra during the summer has brought them in demand.

Almost without exception, however, the men would prefer to stay in St. Louis, their home, while Mr. Ernst says that he will abandon America and return to Germany. If, after the success of this summer, St. Louis is willing to let so good an orchestra disband. But the meeting last Thursday would not give up the orchestra, and the meeting of the Board of Management Sunday afternoon at Mrs. Davis's realtimed the decision to go on, after it heard reports regarding public sentiment.

In this way the society goes to test on the proposition that every seat holder shall carry his proportionate share of the deficit. Personally, I am glad to see this decision. I believe that some of the former centributors to the deficit fund will feel so pleased that they will buy some blocks of seats for presentation to schools, conservatories, or other groups of desarving listeners who cannot observates attend.

Everyone who believes that 8t, Louis should not slip backward in so important an element of municipal culture—everyone who is unwilling to admit that St. Louis emmy that the subject has p Aside from the baggage, as the statenent will show, the train movement and car interchange was much greater than in September, which was the heaviest in the history of Union Station.

The many improvements which have beet made in the Terminal tracks and equipment, coupled with the efficient force of employes, has enabled this business to be handled not only without a single seri-ous accident, but with a remarkably small ous accident, but with a remarkably small number of delays. Fog and other obstacles which could not have been anticipated have caused delays at times, but under normal conditions the many trains passed in and out of the station without wasting any time in the yards for clear tracks.

Lula Bodemann Disappears From Gallery of Iowa Pavillon While Her Relatives Go Inside.

Lula Bodemann, 10 years old, a visitor at the World's Fair from Hot Springs, Ark., disappeared in a most mysterious manner yesterday afternoon, and her mother, sister and two brothers, who came here with her, spent the remainder of the day in search for her. Lula waited in the gallery of the Iowa building at the Fair while the other members of her family went inside. When they returned after a stay inside of less than ten minutes the little girl had gone.

Mrs. E. M. Bodemann, with her children, is stopping at No. 283 Lucas avenue. They reside in Hot Springs, at No. 109 Corporal avenue. They came to St. Louis Friday for a visit of a week at the World's Fair.

Lula has dark hair and dark-brown eyes. She wore a plaid dress, with a long gray cloak with red and silver buttons. Her shoes and stockings are brown.

Growers' Congress was held yesterday afternoon in the Hall of Congresses. The meeting was delayed by the late arrival of the president, H. M. Dunlap of Savoy, Ill., and Frederick W. Taylor, Chief of the Department of Agriculture.

W. Stanton of Richfield, Ill., called the meeting to order and asked for a few words from J. T. Stinson, Superfittendent of Pomology of the Exposition Mr. Stinson briefly outlined the apple exhibit in the Palace of Horticulture, and gave several incidences of the benefit to be derived from the same.

The cold-storage question was one that Mr. Stinson dwell on at some length, and he asserted that it was through the cold-storage system of the present day that the apple exhibit had attained its great prominence. He claimed that even at this late day there was twice as much fruit displayed in the Palace of Horticulture than at any one time at the Chicago Fair. W. Stanton of Richfield, Ill., called the
